Victims

Palestinian refugee “Yasser Mohammed Eissa” from the Sayeda Zeinab camp, died on the 27th of March 2018, while fighting alongside the Syrian regime forces in the eastern Ghouta clashes.

On its part, AGPS’s Monitoring and Documentation Team revealed that the number of victims from the Sayeda Zeinab refugee camp since the beginning of the Syrian war, has reached 94.

Latest Developments

The Action Group’s correspondent has confirmed the renewal of bombardments in Deraa camp for Palestinian refugees in south Syria. The Syrian regime forces centered at the New Court checkpoint, bombarded the camp with a number of mortar shells and heavy machine guns, destroying civilian houses.

The regime forces also bombarded the Sad Road neighborhood in Deraa yesterday, with a number of mortars shells, causing material damage. This came in conjunction with the outbreak of violent fighting between the opposition fighters and the regime forces, which is attempting to progress and impose its control on the area.

This coincides with the Syrian regime cutting off water from the camp for 1455 days, in addition to the harsh humanitarian conditions resulting from the siege imposed by the regime's army on the camp and its neighboring areas. The residents are also suffering from the extreme lack of food and medical supplies.

More than 80% of the buildings in Deraa camp have been totally or partially destroyed, including schools and public facilities.

In the meantime, our correspondent in Yarmouk camp for Palestinian refugees in Damascus, confirmed that the Syrian opposition in south Damascus opened the Orouba crossing, the only port left for the residents of Yarmouk camp to access the neighboring towns.

Our reporter added that the armed Syrian opposition forces opened the Orouba crossing exceptionally and partly, without a previous decision to open it. The crossing witnessed intensive movement of people and shopping, from the towns of south Damascus.

The armed Syrian opposition in Yelda had closed the Orouba crossing completely, on the 17th of March 2018, with dirt mounds, exacerbating the humanitarian suffering of the civilians trapped inside it significantly, especially regarding securing treatment for the patients and the basic food necessities.

Also in the eastern Ghouta, three members of the Liwaa Al-Quds brigade, affiliated to the Syrian regime, died during the ongoing fighting in the Ghouta, against the armed Syrian opposition groups.

The brigade mourned through its official Facebook account, on the 31st of March, the death of “Hassan Mohammed Jaafar,” “Hassan Faisal Al-Bishara” and “Loay Moqbel Al-Omr,” during the clashes that broke out on the outskirts of Duma town, in the eastern Ghouta.

Liwaa Al-Quds was established in Aleppo in 2014, by the leader Architect “Mohammed Saeed.” The brigade consists of three battalions, including fighters from the Neirab camp, Hanadart camp and the city of Aleppo and its western and northern suburbs.
