Victims

Palestinian young man Ahmad Khuza'I was killed as he fought alongside the Syrian government forces in Daraa, south of Syria.

1,031 Palestinian refugees have been fatally gunned down in the embattled Syrian territories.

Latest Developments

Moroccan activist Nawal AlSoufi quoted a woman held captive in Libya as stating that Palestinian and Syrian women detained in Libya have been subjected to rape every two or three days.

The detained woman, who reached out to the activist on June 27, said a girl bled to death after she got raped several times by gangsters.

In affidavits aired on Deutsche Welle DW TV Channel, the activist said Palestinian and Syrian families were kidnapped at sea by boats reading "Libya Coast Guard". Captured families are being mistreated for ransom.

Palestinian refugees who fled war-torn Syria said Libyan coast guards have been involved in migrant smuggling and mistreatment of captive migrants.

According to the testimonies, refugees kept captive in Libya have been subjected to blackmailing, sexual violence, and torture.

Until recently, Libya has been a major launching off point for migrants, most of them from African countries, trying to cross the Mediterranean to Europe.

Meanwhile, families deported from southern Damascus to Deir Balut Camp, north of Syria, called on the concerned authorities to urgently step in and work on improving living conditions for dozens of impoverished families in the area.

The protesters spoke up for their right to education and health care, among other vital services.

The residents voiced concerns over the fallouts of a projected flooding that might rock the area with the advent of winter season.

Deir Balut Camp has been set up next to the Turkish-funded Muhamadiya Camp as refugee influx across Syria has increased. The two neighboring camps are home to 1,100 poorly-equipped makeshift tents.

In the meantime, a so-called “First Forum for the Reconstruction of Yarmouk Camp” was held at the office of AlBaath Party in Yarmouk. Representatives of Syrian and Palestinian civil society were in attendance.

The meeting culminated in a consent to outline roadmaps and initiate the reconstruction process at the soonest time possible. The participants further drew attention to the urgent need to clear debris in the camp.

Over 80% of buildings in Yarmouk Camp have been either totally or partially destroyed in the warfare. 90% of homes have been subjected to burglary and looting.
