Latest Developments

Palestinian refugee from Syria Mohamed Eid, aged 22 and displaced from Yarmouk Camp in Syria to AlRashidiya Camp in Sour, south of Lebanon, has appealed for urgent intervention to help him secure fees for a much-needed surgery to treat his hip bone fractures.

AlEid, who is expected to undergo a surgery in Jabal Amel Hospital, said treatment fees cost up to $7,960. $1,788 will be contributed by UNRWA, $300 by Tamkeen Association, and $800 by the Social Insurance Fund.

Eid is left with a critical need of $5,000 to cover treatment bills, which far exceed his capacity to shell them out.

Meanwhile, students enrolled at AlAqsa School, run by UNRWA, in AlHusainiya refugee camp called on UNRWA and the other concerned authorities to work on securing means of transport to and back from school.

The residents said they have been forced to accompany their children at daybreak and fetch them home from school after the end of the morning shift. Long distances and scorching heat have made the situation quite exhausting both for the students and their families.

Another resident said she found no other choice than to move her daughter to a state-run school in AlSayeda Zeinab for fear that her daughter might be kidnapped or harassed by delinquents on her way to school.

Sometime earlier, residents of AlHusainiya Camp railed against the exacerbated educational services in the area and appealed to UNRWA and school headmasters to take urgent action.

Meanwhile, a delegation of UNRWA staff members and the director of the General Authority of Palestinian Arab Refugees showed up in Daraa Camp on September 15 to inspect the progress of vital services in the area.

Activists called on UNRWA to work on reconstructing their camp and rehabilitate infrastructure so as to allow displaced residents a safe access to their homes.

using missiles and explosive barrels led to the destruction of 80% of civilian buildings and facilities.

At the same time, UNRWA announced its intent to distribute the third batch of its cash aids for Palestinians from Syria as of October 15, 2018 until December 23, 2018.

Every single family member registered on the list of normal cases will receive 25,000 Syrian Pounds. Those taking refuge in UNRWA shelters will receive a sum of 15,000 Syrian Pounds. Cases with special needs have been added to lists of normal cases.

Families who received cash allowances in the former aid round will be automatically added to the list. Every family member aged 18 or above and registered with agency is entitled to receive aids on his/her family's behalf.

Once the cash aids are handed over, newborns cannot be added to the lists, the agency stated.
