Victims

Palestinian refugee Essam Mustafa Shahada, a resident of Daraa, was killed under torture in Syrian government prisons, where he had been held for seven years.

AGPS documented the death of 536 Palestinians under torture in Syrian prisons. 1,682 Palestinian detainees have been enduring mysterious fates.

Latest Developments

Speaking with AGPS Activists said the Syrian government forces continue to prevent civilians and paramedics from recovering bodies stuck under the mounds of debris piled up in Yarmouk Camp, south of Damascus.

The activists added that the government forces continue to block the recovery of dead bodies, claiming that there are no official parties or hospitals to take charge of the cadavers.

According to the same source, the bodies of Abdul Hadi Fayez Abdul Hadi, Basema Ghoutani, Haifa AlHaj, Mohamed Hadaba, and Inshirah AlShaabi have been stranded under the stacks of debris in Ata AlZeir Street.

Sometime earlier, AGPS called on the Syrian government to allow paramedics and civil defense crews a safe access to Yarmouk Camp so as to remove the bodies of civilians who were killed in the recent round of hostilities launched by the government forces south of Damascus.

A statement by AGPS urged the international community and institutions to step up pressure on the Syrian government so as to remove the bodies of Palestinian victims stuck under the ruins of Yarmouk Camp.

Meanwhile, Palestinian refugee Mohamed Ali Abdullah, aged 32, has been held captive by the government forces since August 25, 2013. His mother Najah Younes Abid, aged 57, was kidnapped on the same day.

The refugee is a resident of AlSabina Camp, in Rif Dimashq. His fate has gone unknown so far.

AGPS documented the incarceration of 1,682 Palestinians in Syrian government jails, among them 106 women and girls.

In the meantime, the Jafra Foundation for Relief and Development south of Syria distributed vegetables picked by the charity to feed displaced families.

The foundation said 150 portions, weighing three kilograms each, have been distributed on a daily basis to families displaced from Yarmouk Camp for Palestinian refugees.

Hundreds of Palestinian families were forcibly deported from Yarmouk after ISIS grabbed hold of the camp in early April 2015 and also following the government's takeover of the shelter in the aftermaths of a destructive military offensive.
