Latest Developments

An attack by Jaysh AlIslam battalion on an ISIS site in AlUruba Street, between Yalda and Yarmouk Camp, claimed the life of an ISIS fighter.

At the same time, simmering clashes between ISIS and the Yalda-based opposition outfits have flared up. On April 29, 2017, a round of similar clashes burst out near Palestine Hospital and the cultural center.

In another development, civilians and activists displaced from Yarmouk and those stranded in the camp called for a mass participation in e-campaigns staged in solidarity with the Palestinian hunger strikers in Israeli jails. The campaigners launched calls for multiplying posts on social media networks using the #dignity_strike hashtag starting 08:00 p.m. Damascus time.

A rally is also slated to be staged outside the office of the Palestine Charity Commission in Yalda. The rally-goers are expected to embark on a two-day hunger strike in protest at the apathy maintained by the international community.

Meanwhile, some 450 Palestinian families fled Jilin, in Daraa, south of Syria, for fear of being killed in ISIS massacres after ISIS-affiliated Khaled Ibn AlWalid battalion held sway over all buildings in the area and left a number of civilians dead since early April.

AGPS news correspondent said the displaced families, most of whom seeking shelter in Wadi al-Yarmouk, Zizon, and AlMuzeireeb, have gone homeless and run out of basic foodstuff.

In the meantime, families of Palestinians tortured to death in Syrian government penitentiaries said they have been made to sign fraudulent documents and certificates issued by Tishreen Military Hospital and claiming that their relatives died of heart attacks.

Speaking on condition of anonymity, the wife of a Palestinian victim of torture told AGPS: "I have left no stone unturned to find out about my husband's fate. Following relentless efforts and pressure, I was handed over a fraudulent death certificate testifying to the fact that my husband died of a heart attack, which I was compelled to approve and sign. I was also asked not to raise any further questions."

“However, an ex-detainee told me that he met my husband in government prisons right after the release of the death certificate,” the wife added.

Activists also quoted ex-detainees as stating that they have met Palestinian refugees in Sednaya military lock-up after they were pronounced dead by the prison authorities.

At the same time, Palestinian brothers Mohamed and Saleh Akawi have gone missing since June 2013, after they were kidnapped by government troops deployed at AlBatikha checkpoint, set up on the access road to Yarmouk Camp.
