Victims

The body of the Palestinian refugee Shadi Eid Hasib was found burned in AlHamdaniya, in Aleppo.

Activists and a number of Shadi's relatives held militias affiliated with the Syrian regime responsible for his death.

Latest Developments

ISIS militias in Yarmouk smashed the headstones of a number of tombs in the New Cemetery under the religious pretext. AGPS field correspondent denied reports that the cemetery was leveled.

ISIS also prevented civilians from visiting their relatives' tombs as part of underway attempts to tighten grip on residents' necks and force them out of the camp.

The targeted cemetery had come under heavy shelling by the Syrian government forces and their war abettors, severely damaging a number of tombs.

Since April 2015, ISIS has been holding sway over large tracts of Yarmouk Camp, after it rolled into the area in cooperation with AlNusra Front.

In another development, the Palestinian student Zahr Yasser AlKoussi earned the second place at secondary school exams in Syria. Zahr was ranked first in Damascus province.

The results were announced by the Syrian Ministry of Education on Sunday, July 2, 2017.

The Syrian Education Minister, Hazwan AlWuz said over 100,000 students sat for secondary school exams. 56,199 students passed, making a success rate of up to 55%.

Zahr sustained injuries after mortars slammed into AlAdawi neighborhood, in Damascus, on October 31, 2015. Her twin sister was killed in the onslaught.

UNRWA's education chief, Walid AlKurdi, said 42 Palestinian students from southern Damascus and Yarmouk Camp took secondary school exams. 65% of the stranded residents of Yarmouk Camp and those displaced from the camp to Yalda, Beit Sahem, and Babila who sat for the exam round passed.
