VICTIMS

The Palestinian refugee, "Ismael Saleh Aljalali", died as he was fighting alongside with the Assad forces. Aljalali, from Al-Sayeda Zainb camp, has been killed during the battle against the Syrian opposition troops, bringing the number of Palestinian victims from Al-Sayeda Zainb camp to (48) since the outbreak of Syrian conflict.

UPDATES

The Palestinian refugee camp of Al-Neirab was subjected to renewed shelling last night. The bombing has targeted few different areas in the camp by mortars. Two mortars have been fired to the railway line south of the camp, while two others were bombed on the farmlands. One house was hit by a mortar resulted in material damages.

It is worth mentioning that Al-Neirab camp is fully subjected to the regime control. The camp constitutes a very strategic site as it is located close to Aleppo airport, which runs the civil and military operations.

On the other context, AGPS monitoring and documentation team said they documented (3121) Palestinian victims killed during the Syrian conflict.

The statistics unveiled that (1057) have died due to the bombing operations, whereas, (703) killed where the clashes between the two parties, opposition and Assad regime had erupted. AGPS team added that (431) Palestinians were tortured to death in prisons. It is indicated that all documents are available for free on the AGPS website:

In Germany, "Fuad Abu Sameer" has joined one of the most important research centres in the country. Abu Sameer, a Palestinian refugee from Syria, became an intern in "Desy" institution which is specialized in researches of technology and electronics. The 27-year-old youth is currently under three-months internship. He will gain a full membership in "Desy" if he managed to pass successfully the stage.

It is noteworthy that Abu Sameer is a Palestinian refugee from Al-Husseinieh camp, he speaks English and German. In addition to his degree in computer sciences, Fuad has an experience in his field as he worked, previously, in a company specialised in developing computer software in Syria before he flees the war-torn country.
