Recent Updates

At Sunday night, Russian aircrafts bombed Khan Al-Sheih in the western Ghouta using the international prohibited firebombs. The bombing targeted Al Salam Hospital, which was off-duty, and that led to a fire in citizens' houses.

The few last weeks, the camp and its adjacent farms were being heavily shelled by Russian aircrafts using phosphorous, vacuum and cluster bombs. The bombardments targeted schools, mosques and Al Salam Hospital leaving victims, injuries and massive destruction in the area.

It's worth mentioning that firebombs are specially designed to cause unstoppable fires in wars. It consists of chemicals that can hardly be controlled like, Napalm, Althermat, Magnesium powder, Chlorine trifluoride and White phosphorus.

In the meantime, more than (3000) children in Khan Al- Sheih are suffering from lack of milk and medical services. The main reason is the widespread damage in health sector especially after targeting all hospitals in the camp.

Since the partial siege on the camp in 2013, all medical centers in the camp were destroyed or damaged and became off- duty except one clinic for UNRWA. The fore-mentioned clinic offers only consulting services.

On 15 May 2016, Children Rescue Organization for Humanitarian Aids said that 3000 children out of 12000 Palestinian Syrian citizens are facing an increasing humanitarian crisis in the camp because of siege imposed by Syrian regime. In addition to closing all the leading roads to the camp by shells and mortars are making the situation worse.

"Sonya khuosh", the president of the organization in Syria confirmed that people are living in a horror of siege and shelling in spite of the declared truce all over the country. Moreover, the organization had been informed that the supplies of medicine, fuel and flour were about to drain and the prices of food had doubled.

Healthy crisis completes the series of living crises in the camp. The most significant ones are the absence of relief services and closing the roads between Damascus and the camp.

In the same context, Palestinian refugees in Greece call for a sit- in in solidarity with Khan Al- Sheih camp in Syria in order to stop the Russian and Syrian bombardment and lift the siege over 12000 refugees. They announced that the sit in will be held on Thursday 13 October 2016 at 4 p.m. in the Greek capital "Athena" in Amoonia Square.

It's good to notice that Palestinian communities have its own footprint in European countries through holding Sit-ins, art exhibitions, conferences and seminars in order to deliver the suffering of Palestinian refugees especially in Syria.

Hundreds of trapped Palestinian Syrians in Greece complain through messages reached to AGPS from the inhumane treatment by the Greek government towards them. For instance, it refrains from treating Palestinian Syrian refugees in its public hospitals and enforces them to go to expensive private ones that increase their misery.

In addition, PRS in Greece are suffering from lack of medical care and the inhumane treatment by racist doctors.

They also suffer from difficult living conditions, lack of hygiene and basic services where the live. Moreover, the existence of poisonous insects, reptiles and snakes in their temporary residence places like tents which endanger their lives.

It's worth noting that after closing the borders leading to Europe, Palestinian Syrian refugees were obliged to stay at temporary refugee camps in Greece in very difficult conditions.

In a related context, Greek coastguard announced about rescuing (131) immigrants from different nationalities off the east of Peloponnese peninsula after receiving a call for help using European emergency number after the weather had turned horrible. News Agencies said that the 18-meter boat landed in Methoni port in Peloponnese peninsula.

Thousands of Palestinian refugees are waiting the right opportunity to escape from the ongoing war in Syria to Europe. AGPS recorded 50 Palestinian Syrians had drowned in the sea while they were trying to reach Europe.

Arrest

"Nidal Esa Al Naji" (52) years from Al Neirab camp was arrested by Syrian regime while he was returning from a surgical operation in one of Aleppo's hospitals. He was arrested by one of regime barriers in the way between Aleppo and Neirab.

In the same time, Syrian security forces still hiding the truth about the fate of more than (1100) Palestinian refugees in its prisons. Among those detainees were women, children, elderly, brothers, fathers, whole families and hundreds of them were killed because of torturing.
