Victims

The young man Ahmed Mahmoud Shreih from Handarat Camp was killed during the clashes that broke out in the front of Handarat camp between the Opposition forces and the Regular Army. It is mentioned that Shreih is a member of Al Quds Palestinian brigades affiliated to the Regular Army.

Recent Updates

Bombing targeted the Yarmouk Camp for Palestinian refugees in Damascus, coincided with clashes between the Regular Army alongside with the PFGC and groups affiliated to the Syrian Opposition. News are contradicted about the one who started the crossfire, where news talks about the Regular Army and groups of PFGC was the one how started the crossfire on the residents who were waiting to get aids, what led to the suspension of distributing aids after targeting Al Righa square with a missile.

In terms of living aspect, the water is still cut from the camp for the 33 days respectively amid great difficulties of securing drinking water, where people are forced to fill and transfer the water in a primitive ways.

On the other hand, the Lebanese authorities allow the son of the dead man "Mohammed Ramadan" to enter its territories today. Mohammed Ramadan's corpse was detained in a Lebanese hospital for 13 days due to the inability of his son to return to Lebanon after heading for the performance of official exams in Syria. The Lebanese authorities permit for the son to enter came after the activating and following the case from the Palestinians of Syria Committee in Lebanon and Hamas office for the refugees affairs which helped the son to bury his father and finish all procedures.

It is referred that the Action Group for Palestinians of Syria documented a number of the Lebanese authorities' violations towards the Palestinians of Syria refugees in Lebanon in a report that was published recently. The restrictions were presented by preventing the Palestinians of Syria refugees to enter the Lebanese territory though they had the requested documents in addition to the deportation and detention of other refugees including children.

In a different context, yesterday was the first anniversary for the disaster of the boat which was carrying Palestinians of Syria and Syrians refugees and sunk in front of the Italian and Maltese coasts in 11th of October

2013. It is mentioned that hundreds of refugees drawn and lost in this accident. In the anniversary of this disaster, the Action Group for Palestinians of Syria issued a report titled as "A Homeland in the Seabed" where it shows the most important events of Palestinians drowning in the Mediterranean Sea during the period between the two summers of 2013-2014 and the two incidents of 11th of October 2013 and the 6th of September 2014.
