Latest Developments

Three civil defense staff members sustained wounds in a Russian strike on Al-Houda Mosque in Khan Al-Sheih Camp on Sunday. The local Civil Defense Center suspended its services after it has been totally destroyed in the Russian offensive.

The situation has gone from bad to worse in Khan Al-Sheih, a home to over 12,000 civilians, due to the blockade imposed by the Syrian regime militias for 46 days running, resulting in a sharp dearth in basic food items and life-saving medicines.

Unbroken blitzes on the camp took away the lives of dozens of civilians and left several others wounded. A remarkable havoc was also wreaked on the infrastructure and civilian facilities in the camp. The only hospital in the disarmed camp also suspended its services due to the unabated shelling.

In a related development, the Deraa Camp for Palestinian refugees in southern Syria was struck with mortar shells, resulting in heavy material losses.

70 % of civilian buildings and structures in Deraa Camp have been reduced to rubble due to unbroken hostilities and bombardment. Civilian residents of the camp have been subjected to dire socio-economic conditions.

Meanwhile, activists quoted an ex-detainee as confirming that they came across Palestinian refugees in the detention center of Branch 227. Some of the encountered detainees have been identified as Marwan Mer'I Mahmoud, Ibrahim Mahmoud Mahmoud, Ihab Areisheh, Rami Atiyeh Jom'a, Moussa Jom'a, and Mohamed Jom'a. The ex-detainee also said he met refugee Amer Amer, who has been held in Syrian government jails for the third consecutive year. The latter has gone quadriplegic after he got his leg amputated and caught a numbness in his right and left hands.

Sworn affidavits by ex-detainees provided evidence for the presence of Palestinian refugee toddlers held in their mothers' arms in Syrian government jails.

AGPS kept record of the detention of 1,121 Palestinian refugees in Syrian prisons, among whom 77 female refugees whose fate has been shrouded in mystery.

453 Palestinian refugees were, meanwhile, tortured to death in Syrian prisons.

In the meantime, 38-year-old Palestinian refugee Mohamed Hassan Awdeh, sheltered in Al-Muzeireeb town, was released from Syrian government prisons, where he had been held for over one month.

Over 1,000 Palestinian refugees in Syria, including 22 Palestinians taking shelter in Al-Muzeireeb refugee community in Deraa, have had unknown fates behind Syrian prison bars.
