RECENT UPDATES

PRS in general and youth in particular are still migrating from Syria especially from the regime-controlled areas as the humanitarian conditions continuing to deteriorate, despite the regime's attempts to make it more difficult to arrive Turkish borders as well as the Turkish procedures of inspections at border points.

The migration issue is mainly due to security persecution that targets the youth in particular to force them join the military service in PLA.

In terms of the living conditions, though many of the camps are still under regime's control but still suffering from living hardships such as the high prices and the widespread unemployment which push many of the PRS youth to migrate and persue their dreams abroad.

Other camps suffer from very miserable conditions such as the Al-Yarmouk Camp which is subjected to tightened siege for 1005 days caused the death of 186 victims due to hunger and lack of medical care. This siege pushed civilians inside the camp to eat kinds of grass and get infected by many diseases such as kidney's and blood diseases as well as the nutrition.

While in Sbienna camp, residents are still forbidden from returning back to their homes, the same like Handarat camp's residents.

In another topic, activists warned the PRS in Lebanon from being subjected to fraud by scammers who offer fake entry visas to Turkey and take advantage of the very high demand on such services in light of unbearable situations in Lebanon. Noting that the Turkish Embassies had stopped granting entry visas to PRS since the beginning of 2014 without further explanation.

Many PRS individuals and families were detained in Ataturk airport after discovering the fake visas, activists added.

It is noteworthy that the visas granting stoppage pushed thousands of PRS to risk their lives and pass the land routes and cross the borders illegally towards Turkey and Europe afterwards.

Moving to Lebanon, "Al-Marhama international Campaign" and "Al-Ghawth Al-Insani" in cooperation with "PRS in Lebanon Committee" have distributed food parcel and winter clothing to nearly 150 families out of 850 families living in Al-Baddawi Camp north of Lebanon.
