Latest Developments

AGPS kept record of the death of 3,411 Palestinian refugees due to war-related incidents in Syria.

Shelling took away the lives of 1,129 Palestinians while 820 refugees were killed in bloody hostilities between the Syrian army and the opposition outfits. 456 refugees were, meanwhile, tortured to death in Syrian lock-ups.

AGPS detailed statistics and reports are available on the group's website: actionpal.org.uk

In a related development, packages of bread and vegetables were allowed access into Khan Al-Sheih Camp, which has been blockaded by the Syrian government troops since early October 2016.

Over recent months, Khan Al-Sheih residents launched cries for help over the acute dearth in children's milk, bread, and medicines.

Students have also been allowed partial access out of and into the camp.

Reports have emerged on the Syrian army's intent to lift the blockade and restore civilians' free movement inside and out.

In another development, the Turkish Guard Command announced the death of five refugees after they drowned off the Turkish coast on way to Greece.

Seven refugees, out of 13 onboard a migration road, were rescued off the Turkish waters. Efforts have been ongoing to track the other missing refugee.

Civil Action Committees

The Al-Wafaa European Campaign distributed cash aids and food parcels to a number of Palestinian-Syrian families sheltered in the Lebanese Al-Bekaa area as part of its "Together for a Warm Winter 5" campaign aiming to assuage the crises endured by the displaced Palestinian refugees.

The campaigners also popped in the Palestinian refugee camps of Nahr Al-Barid and Al-Beddawi in northern Lebanon in an attempt to keep tabs on the socio-economic conditions endured by the refugees with the advent of a freezing winter season.

At the same time, the Furqan Charity, in partnership with donor parties, handed out winter blankets and mattresses to a number of Palestinian families taking cover in Ein Al-Hilweh Camp after they fled embattled Syria.
