Recent Updates

Despite changing the charge from illegal immigrants to war refugee, 56 Palestinian refugees are still detained for the Egyptian Authorities. The refugees were detained while they were trying to reach Italy through the Turkish shores in 25th of the last month, where they were victims for smugglers who left them on one of the Island in front of the Egyptian shores and the Egyptian authorities detained them from the Island. It is mentioned that the Egyptian Security released all the detained Syrians and kept 56 refugees from the Palestinians of Syria because of the refusal of all the surrounding countries to receive them. The refugees were given the choice either to stay in detention or to be deported to Syria.

In Dar'aa camp for Palestinian refugees in Southern of Syria, the water cut continues for 223 days respectively, where the residents depend on the artesian water wells to secure drinking water in addition to the severe shortage of the relief and medical services due to damaging about 70% of the camp's buildings due to the frequent bombing which targeted the camp during the previous months.

In a related context, the water cut in the Yarmouk camp enters its 76th day where the residents are suffering of huge difficulties to secure drinking water for their people which increased the water shortage in the surrounding areas.

The siege that is imposed by the Regular Army and the PFGC continues for 506 days respectively, where the checkpoints prevent the entry of fuel and food materials to the camp which led to crucial living crisis specially with the winter season. Some residents invented to get the fuel out of the Plastic material in order to alleviate their suffering where they fuse the plastic material remains in the camp then they extract a material that looks like the benzene, it is used to operate the generators or the heating installations.

Water crises in Yarmouk camp

In Damascus Suburb, the Regular army and some of its Palestinian factions prevent the residents of Al Husayneyya camp to return back to their houses that they were forced to leave because of the battles between the Regular Army with its factions and the Military Opposition Groups, where the Regular Army imposed its full control over the camp 408 day ago which led the families to be exposed to homelessness where they were distributed on the surrounding camps and towns that added more economic burdens specially with the spread of unemployment and the high cost of living.
