Recent Updates

Witnesses estimated that more than 70% of buildings in Deraa Camp's at Deraa province, southern Syria are completely destroyed by the Syrian aircraft raids and explosive barrels, which led to the displacement of thousands of refugees from the camp towards the neighboring areas or outside Syria.

In the suburb of the capital Damascus, witnesses estimates indicate that more than 80% of buildings in Sbeina camp are almost completely destroyed specifically the area extended from Moaaz Bin Jabal mosque till the Kurds bakery, which forms the western entrance of the camp.

Meanwhile, the regular army and some affiliated Palestinian groups continue to prevent residents of Sbeina camp to return to their homes for 928 days, after being forced to leave because of the violent clashes between the regular army and groups of armed opposition, which ended with the regular army full control over the camp.

In northern Syria, it is estimated that more than 70% of buildings in Handarat camp are completely and partly destroyed because of rockets and explosive barrels that targeted the camp under the pretext of the existence of armed opposition groups, while the Palestinian refugees, who were displaced from Handarat camp are still suffering, where they have been displaced from their homes after the Syrian armed opposition controlled the camp.

In the Yarmouk camp south of the capital Damascus, it is estimated that about 40% of the buildings have been fully or partially damaged by the war machine, where witnesses confirms that the area in the beginning of the camp is the worst affected areas being the confrontations area between the Syrian regime and the armed opposition groups. In addition, the regular army and the General command groups still imposing siege on the camp and prevent the introduction of medicines and medical supplies, and they cut electricity and water.

It should be noted that other Palestinian camps and compounds have been exposed to explosive barrels, artillery shells, and rockets, which left considerable damage in homes and casualties, including children and women.

According to activists, the regiment 137 forces of the Syrian regime targeted Zakya – Khan Al Shieh road with heavy machine guns. This road is the only road that provides residents of Khan Al Shieh camp with essential supplies and materials, while all roads leading to the camp are closed, forcing residents to go through Zakya in spite of high seriousness.

This comes amid increasing suffering experienced by residents of the camp due to the continuation of the regular army checkpoints to preventing the cross of civilian and goods cars, resulting in a worsening of living crisis, especially with regard to medical services.

In the south of Damascus, our correspondent in Yarmouk confirmed that clashes broke out between ISIS and Nusra near Ja'una Street, where members of Nusra repel an attack by ISIS groups in order to break into the place.

The clashes between the two groups had erupted early April of this year, after ISIS attempted to impose full control over the areas controlled by Nusra, while the latter had facilitated ISIS to break into the camp in the beginning of April last year, where ISIS groups seized control of large sections of the camp.

In a different context, Syrian security services arrested several Palestinian families and keep reticent about their fate, including the family of "Mawloud Khaled al-Abdullah," where the Syrian regime members arrested all the family on 07/27/2013 from the Regime's checkpoint at Nisreen Street in Al Tadamon neighborhood adjacent to Yarmouk camp. The family members are.:

Mawloud al-Abdullah, 39-year-old, Ubada Abdullah" six years, the son of Yasmin."

There were unconfirmed reports that the families that have been arrested from Al Tadamon neighborhood being held by a member of the pro-Syrian regime People's Committees, and other news confirmed they are held in a Syrian security branch in Damascus, while until now the fate of these families is unknown.

Turning to Turkey, the Islamic Society of aid orphans and the needy distributed many urgent financial aids to some Palestinian Syrian families in Turkey in the framework of its campaign that was launched under the title "Daffini 3." The Society distributed aid to 30 families in Nezb, 24 families in Urfa, 53 families in the border town of Kells, and 53 families in the city of Gaziantep.

It is noteworthy that the number of Palestinian Syrian refugees in Turkey is estimated, according to unofficial statistics, between 6000-8000 refugees scattered between Istanbul and the provinces of central and southern Turkey.
