Recent Updates

The siege imposed on Yarmouk refugee camp still continues since around a year, despite the passing of four days of signing the neutralization agreement.

A state of calm prevailed throughout the camp amid people's optimism about solving their problem, following news about allowing the people of the camp to return to it as soon as possible.

It is mentioned that, a few days ago, an agreement was signed to neutralize the camp, where the agreement signed by Head of Palestine Branch of Syrian Intelligence as a representative of the Syrian Government. The agreement also signed by representatives of relief and community organizations as well as representatives of the Armed Brigades inside the camp.

On the other hand, Khan Al Sheih camp in Damascus city suffers of economic crises and acute shortage of health services due to the frequent interruptions of the roads linking the camp to the city center, which led to the loss of many food and medical supplies.

Khan Al Sheih camp and surrounding areas witnessed a remarkable rise of military actions, where areas adjacent to the camp bombed almost daily, while sounds of violent explosions were heard yesterday due to renewed bombardment on those areas.

In Damascus city, Khan Danon camp also suffers of a lack of food supplies and high prices, in addition to a lack of basic services of water and electricity, as the camp receives hundreds of Palestinian families who displaced from their camps because of bombing and siege.

Meanwhile, Al a'edein camp in Homs also suffers of power and communication frequent outages, while unemployment is widespread amongst its residents, which increases the economic suffering, especially with the radically rising cost of living.

Turkey

A group of international activists visited a center for accommodation of Palestinian Syrian refugees, southern Turkey, in order to see the living conditions of the refugees. Activists knew the suffering of the people who have been fled from their camps because of the bombing and the violent clashes between the parties of the conflict in Syrian. It is worth mentioning that the center can accommodate about forty families.

Thus, UNRWA statistics refer that the number of Palestinian Syrian refugees in Turkey has exceeded 1500 refugees.
