Syrian Regular Army and some Palestinian factions loyal to it, continues preventing people of Husaineia and Sbaina camps of returning to their homes despite of their full control of the two camps.

The Regular army and the factions controlled Hussainia camp since October 2013 and Sbaina camp since November 2013, after violent clashes between them and groups of the Free Army. People of the two camps are demanding to allow them to return to their homes, as they received several promises from official Syrian sides but these promises have not been carried out till now.

Thus, people of the two camps suffer of extra economical burdens that were accumulated after the rent houses raised and the spread of unemployment, while they fled to the neighboring cities and camps.

In a related context, the siege imposed on Yarmouk camp, since about a year, still continues, as the checkpoints of the Regular Army and the Public Front- General Command preventing the entry of food and basic supplies in addition to the prevention of the people to cross through it. The siege led to the death of 151 victims due to the lack of nutrition and medical care.

On the other hand, sounds of heavy explosions were heard on Khan Al Sheih camp in Damascus city, turns out to be resulted in the bombing of surrounding farms. The bombing coincided with warplane hovering and outage of telecommunication and internet for about a week, meanwhile the power came back to the residents homes.

As for Lathakia, a stat of calm prevailed Al Raml camp. People of the camp complain of several economic crises, most prominent the raise of prices and the unemployment spread. Meanwhile, people of Jaraman camp suffer of the same crises.

A number of Palestinian Syrian refugees, who are residing in a shelter at Kells Turkish town, organized a solidarity set-in with their families in Jerusalem. The refugees prayed funeral prayer on the Palestinian child Mohammed Abu Khodair, from the occupied Jerusalem, who was burned to death by Israeli settlers. They also assured their adherence to their right of return to their homeland Palestine.

It is worth mentioning that hundreds of Palestinian Syrian families were fled to Turkey because of the siege and the bombings that targeted their camps. Most of the families suffer of economic and legal problems, as the majority of them entered Turkey illegally because the Turkish embassy in Lebanon refused to give them entry permeations without giving reasons.

Another solidarity set-in took place at Ain Al Helwa camp in Sidon city south Lebanon, in solidarity with Jerusalem; raising Slogans that condemn the heinous crime done by Israeli settlers to the child Mohammed Abu Khodair.

Palestinian refugees from all sides, participated in the solidarity sit-in, with a remarkable presence of the Palestinians of Syria. According to UNRWA statistics about 25% of the Palestinian refugees of Syria lives at Ain Al Helwa, in average of 2091 family.
